

Wed walks - a few of our trips

Each coordinator has a plan – often an A and B - then adapts as the day dawns:

February can be full on crampons. We watched a guy, without them, turn round on our 'trot' up Ben Donnich, below.

On a recent January walk, the snow was scarce and wind very strong, plan B was a stroll to Abyssinia Bothy for late morning coffee.

We can have blue sky, maybe in summer.

Or enjoy the atmospheric just down from the summit as the cloud rolls in.

Sometimes we are local, sociable by Loch Ard.

Other times out on the summits.
